There is nothing wrong with seeing Peter as the leader of the first group of the apostles, even as he often was the spokesman among the disciples during the earthly ministry of Jesus. Their reliance on God's Word is notable; this wasn't the wisdom of man at work, but a principle revealed in Scripture. What told them that these were to be the qualifications?

The disciples were in obedience, they were in fellowship, they were in prayer this first manifestation of his glory is a demonstration of his creative ability.
