Cien Sonetos de Amor - Wikipedia

Where art thou, Muse, that thou forget'st so long. To speak of that which gives thee all thy might? Spend'st thou thy fury on some worthless song, Dark'ning thy.

Love Sonnets : Pablo Neruda :

Cien sonetos de amor (" Love Sonnets") is a collection of sonnets written by the Chilean poet and Nobel Laureate Pablo Neruda originally published in.

Shakespeare Sonnet - Where art thou, Muse

"I love you without knowing how, or when, or from where. I love you simply, without problems or pride: I love you in this way because I do not know any other way of loving but this, in which there is no I or you, so intimate that your hand upon my chest is my hand, so intimate.

From Love Sonnets. XVII. No te amo como si fueras rosa de sal, topacio o flecha de claveles que propagan el fuego: te amo como se aman ciertas cosas.

Pablo Neruda, I crave your mouth, your voice, your hair.

100 Sonnets worked variously as an advertising copywriter and executive, editor, publisher, and university professor. But when you are in love, 100 Sonnets seems that suddenly all your house is busy with new furniture and decoration for some imminent party, and there are things that you love but don't need, and things which are needed but not loved, and all over there is activity, and everyone for now there seem so many guests is thinking of one thing.
