Principals and after-school programs: The Programme for Government included the objectives of continuing investment in appropriate sports facilities around the country, particularly at a local level, and to put in place a long-term strategy incorporating a national audit of local sports facilities; to increase participation and encourage voluntarism and to maintain high performance levels.

PEasasubjectisousefulforbehaviourmanagementandaspartofasensorydi There are some disability sport organisations that cater exclusively for the needs of people with disabilities, and oftentimes for persons with specific disabilities, and these often work closely with the relevant NGBs of Sport. Barriers that contribute to low levels of participation in physical activity and sport by people with disabilities in Ireland include the following: The more athletes participate in competition, from local to international level events, the more positive their sense of general self-worth. Ontheotherhand,significantresearchalreadyexistsondecreasingrecrea report suggested a leading role for the ISC in ensuring justice and equality for people with disabilities in terms of access to adequate sport and leisure activities and facilities. It promotes and develops quality sports opportunities.
